What is Best for the World?

Every year, B Lab highlights the Certified B Corporations with B Impact Assessment scores in the top 10% of the entire global community. Separate lists honor companies with the best overall scores and scores for each category in the BIA.

With this announcement, Goldmann & Partners has been included in the list that groups the top 10% of companies that have been awarded the 2018 Best for the World B Corp recognition for the positive impact of their business, as measured by an independent and global evaluation by the American non-profit certification company B Lab.

B Lab evaluated more than 2,400 B Corporation-certified companies across all categories based on the B Impact Assessment (BIA), which measures the positive impact of the business on its customers, its workers, the social community, and the environment.

The UN has chosen BIA as a tool to help companies evaluate and monitor the improvement of their performance with respect to achieving the SDGs, the UN Sustainable Development Goals for 2030.

Goldmann & Partners was awarded Best for the World B Corp 2018 in three categories: Overall, Environment, and Workers.
