

Goldmann & Partners, just two years after obtaining the @BCorporation certification, and for the second consecutive year, obtains the BestForTheWorld2019 recognition for the Workers category. The award recognizes the quality of the company's relationships with its employees-collaborators by rewarding its proactive approach to human resources. We see it as an important recognition of our strong commitment from the beginning to make this world the best it can be.

